Don't miss this day together!

If you haven't taken the "plunge" yet and started doing the Rotation Model Sunday School program OR if you have been doing it for a year or longer OR if you are still trying to decide IF you should, this workshop is for you!

A new feature this year is that we are planning the event together with the East Central Synod of WI. People from there will be joining in the workshop sessions. Darlene Kalfahs, Resource Center director from Appleton, has been with us before and will lead a large group presentation. This is a wonderful learning opportunity for all!

There will be something to "shiver everyone's timbers!"

Break-out Leaders

●Greg Kaufmann, Director of the Northwest Synod of WI Resource Center and Assistant to the Bishop, will lead the "basics" breakout sessions. He will talk about what you need to do to get started and how to keep it going.

●Jenny Markgren, Rotation Model leader at Osseo Evangelical, will lead "classroom design". She has been the head of the Rotation emphasis since it began in Osseo and has lots of experience in knowing what makes a learner-friendly atmosphere.

●Allison Thome is teacher with the Appleton Area School District and is an active member of Christus Lutheran Church in Greenville, WI. She has been the Sunday School Coordinator and Rotation Director for the past four years. Her work includes designing and implementing the rotation program at Christus and authors the monthly lessons. Her breakout sessions will be: #1 The Basics of How to Design a Lesson. You will have an introduction and philosophy behind what makes a lesson right for your church and how to access the resources to help you design the best lesson. #2 Design Your Own Lesson. Compare drafts of lessons to learn what works and what doesn't. Design a lesson to gain confidence and have your questions answered.

●Sue Hinton, Senior Editor, Children's Resources, Augsburg Fortress Publishers, to present the new & exciting Firelight units and show how to incorporate Bible Basics into your lessons and how to get the most from these top notch resources.
